1. Introduction

It's not just about the light, it's about getting the right light.

The type of fixture (metal halide or high pressure sodium), the wattage, the reflector, the ballast; which one is right for you? Rough Brothers would like to share with you our alliance with supplemental lighting specialists; the authorities dedicated to advising and ultimately providing a customized system that delivers the proper lighting required. Each lighting design and layout is custom designed for each client, each range, and each crop.
